I am very opposed to the Microsoft Settlement that allows them to write off their debt to society by 'donating' their badly written and over-valued software to our schools.

Forcing a decision down our schools throats like this only makes them repeat customers of bad software in the future.

Please let schools make better decisions instead of tying their hands.

Instead, the settlement should be paid out completely in cash to schools for better libraries, facilities, and budgets to purchase whatever they need.

Do not make the mistake of letting Bill Gates corrupt America's youth just like he has corrupted the rest of corporate America.
